Name: Nikhil Kumar Korrapati

Age: 28

Location: Oshawa

Profile:

Nikhil Works as a Data Engineer, wants to pivot his career into Business Analytics and want to work in all the data domains to have the grip on this domain. Who like to play piano during freetime and hangout with friends during weekend and likes cooking

Needs:

I'm working hard to move my career from just building data systems to actually being the person who gives the business strategic advice. Alongside that pivot, the basics matter. I need to know my job is stable to cover everything, a reliable car for getting around, and good food to keep my energy up. And honestly, to keep from burning out, I absolutely need to protect my time for my sanity, that means regular time at the piano and the essential joy of cooking for my friends on the weekend.
